

HOMELAND SECURITY CONCENTRATION

It's no secret. We live in an increasingly dangerous world, and protecting the nation requires specially-trained professionals who are dedicated to tracking, intercepting and prosecuting would-be terrorists. Homeland Security professionals have emerged as an indispensable member of America's national security team, assuming the vital role of protecting citizens from terrorists and hostile nations. If you want to enter this rapidly growing field, consider ECPI University.

Through ECPI's year-round schedule, you could earn a Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice with a concentration in Homeland Security in as little as 2.5 years.

ECPI's program could provide graduates with the ability to:

- Understand the policies and procedures of the Department of Homeland Security
- Follow security and surveillance principles
- Assume the role of intelligence gathering in protecting the nation's critical infrastructures
- Apply knowledge of the legal issues surrounding Homeland Security
- Acquire knowledge of NIMS (National Incident Management System) and its application to Homeland Security

Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the program, graduates are able to:

- Execute ethical standards across professional and personal settings.
- Critically evaluate the quality and sufficiency of evidence to support a criminal justice argument (case or proposal).
- Integrate scientific inquiry into the analysis of criminal justice issues.
- Analyze human behavior and the impact on crime.
- Execute policies and protocols when emergency and criminal situations occur.
- Perform security surveys.
- Demonstrate an ongoing investigation into the dynamic changes in and scope of homeland security.
- Create crime maps with GIS software through the evaluation of spatial hotspots for resource allocation, crime prevention, incident response and crime management strategies.
- Design security and response plans for the nation's critical infrastructures.
- Acquire knowledge of NIMS (National Incident Management System) and its application to Homeland Security
